Tip from

Ride over obstacles; not around them.

Going around obstacles widens trails, impacts vegetation, and causes erosion. Challenge yourself by staying on the trail. Use caution when going over obstacles and remember to be courteous to other trail users.

Commander's Corner

by Joe Zipp

May Board continued to work on revising the Membership amendment. This amendment has become a similar exercise as one would experience in peeling an onion. We believe we have addressed every possible issue and when we peel off the next layer we discover yet another issue. We are very close to a final recommendation and should be ready to have the amendment in your hands for approval soon.

We want the Membership amendment to be (1) a simple process so every MHJC member can fully understand each membership category and the benefits associated with those categories. We want to (2) maximize the use of Club Express. Let the system do the work for us and not burden our Membership Chair and his team with countless hours of work each month keeping Membership current and correct. And most importantly (3) we want our structure and benefits to be compliant with the regulatory agencies that govern this Club.

Additionally, the Board is participating in training exercises each month to better understand how a 501 C7 Social Club is organized and the accounting and membership requirements we must follow to remain in this tax category. Gina is doing an outstanding job converting accounting practices and tax law into terms we as Board Members can fully understand.

It looks like summer is finally here. Please keep safety your number one priority in your off road adventures. Let's go wheeling!!!

Joe

Hello fellow Jeepers!

During April's parent club meeting, Craig, Membership Chair 2016, announced that Becki Zipp would be one of the administrators of the MHJC Facebook page. If you are interested in joining the Facebook page, please contact membership@mhjc.org and I will process your request as soon as possible. Member spouses will also have access to the FB page; please reference the member name and member number for verification.

We are working on some changes to the system and hope in the future to streamline this process. Thank you for being patient.

Patrol 14 Goes to Moab

In April a large number of Patrol 14 headed to Moab for some fun adventures again. Tom Hester and Sam Sanford headed to Moab on Tuesday morning, on Wednesday morning they hooked up with some of the guys from Patrol 6 to run Steel Bender. From what I know this isn't a trail for the faint of Heart, however they both returned in one piece and ready to go again. Several of us arrived on Wednesday afternoon and were given the opportunity to run Fins & Things, with Gene Day, Frank Eichenlaub and Mark Woodworth. Most of us had never run Fins & Things so having Gene lead and narrate greatly added to the experience.

On Thursday the entire group headed to "Top of the World" trail. I had never run this trail nor had a lot of the attendees. We met up at Dewey Bridges and aired down. Thom Hester took the lead since he was one of only two members that had ever run this trail. A bit of history, one of the previous Patrol 14 members was married on "Top of the World". The trail starts pretty easy before you begin to encounter some rocky sections, and, the first obstacle. Thom Hester was in the lead and took the first shot that was not a fruitful attack. The second approach put Thom up and looking good. Next up was Harold in the Blue JK 2 Dr, following Thom's line Harold was able to walk up the obstacle without any issues. It just looked too easy. We had a perspective member along on this trip in a stock JK 2 Door. She and Bill Finkel took the bypass. She just didn't have the clearance and the Bill's jeep also was just a little low. The bypass was not a cake walk, but both of them made it look easy. Sam Sandford was up next; he lined up the silver TJ and walked it up with ease. Next up was Bill David, he was anxious to try out his new Eaton E locker. With a little spotting from our guest, Chad Boudreau, Bill was able to walk the little red YJ up on top with ease. Next up, Chads dad Gary Boudreau, who was anxious to try out his new front ARB locker. I think Gary had his doubts (since he is only locked in the front) but we all encouraged him to give a shot. With the right line you would have thought the little Green YJ was a Rubicon on 35's. When he popped up on top, he was grinning from ear to ear. Lastly, Chad Boudreau driving a borrowed (he told us it was a loaner but we had our doubts) JK 2d on 37's, Chad made the wall look like a speed bump in the mall parking lot. We continued on up the trail, most of us not knowing what to expect. After several obstacles, we reached the top and all of us were in AWE of the beauty that was before us. If you haven't run "Top of the World" in Moab I highly encourage you to do so next time you are there. It's a fun trail with a beautiful end. After lunch we turned around and took the harder side of the loop back down. It was slow going due to the stair step ledges but not at all impossible to navigate. At the end of the trail several folks wanted to run some smaller trails we had on the agenda and several wanted to stop at the Winery. So we split for the day and planned to meet up on Friday and head for another trail.

On Friday we all met in town for a departure to Bartlett Overlook, it wasn't a good start since the lead Bill David, couldn't find the turn off. Persistence paid off and we did finally find the start of the trail. We all aired down and headed out. Not too far down the trail we encountered a medium sized Obstacle. Being that the obstacle was not enormous Gary Boudreau and Jan Finkel providing spotting to various jeeps. Chad Boudreau driving the "loaner" jeep was playing around (after everyone was up) trying to make the obstacle a bit more challenging, and did in fact, make the challenge impossible when he broke the driver side tie rod on the JK half way up the challenge. You think Patrol 14 could go to Moab without breaking at least one jeep? We winched the jeep up onto flat ground and then jacked the front up to straighten the tire and provide access to the tie rod end. The only solution was to pull the draglink and tie rod, go back to town and weld it up, since this is an aftermarket system and Moab Outpost didn't have just the tie rod end. Father and Son decided to take on the repair and the rest of the group headed on down the trail. Fortunately for Trudy and Nicole (Gary and Trudy's daughter), our perspective member Catherine Felson was happy to share seats with them and they continued on with the group.

We found a beautiful outlook and took time to shoot photos and have some lunch. We headed further down the trail and encountered some nice challenges and some great downhill descents (which at one point made Cheryl gasp and grab the “Oh St” bar in the little Red YJ. Of course, I had to chuckle (but not too loud, I know where my bread is buttered). As we neared the bottom of the canyon Bill David was leading and missed a turn, the trail continued on but we didn’t realize we were going in the wrong direction until most of us had made a rather difficult crossing and the trail seemed to just stop. Nothing else to do but turn the wagon around and head back to where we missed the turn. Sadly about halfway thru the turnaround ordeal Harold thought he spotted a trail across the low spot, Cheryl Minardi and Sam Sandford checked it out and yes it was a trail but we had no record of it in any of our maps so we decided to continue on the return route and work our way out of the canyon. In the mean time, I received an ongoing status from the Boudreau boys regarding the repair. They had managed to get everything welded back together and returned to the jeep, re-fitted the draglink and tested the strength of the welds. Once confident that the welds would hold, Chad drove the JK back to the area where the trailer was parked and loaded the jeep up and headed back to camp. When we reached the outlet of the canyon some headed back to town while a few of the others wandered down “Tusher Tunnel” and a few other surrounding trails. Though not challenging the Tunnel is a great scenic area.

Friday evening we were all treated to a delicious Crawfish and Shrimp boil hosted by Thom and Nance. If you’ve never been to a southern Crawfish and Shrimp boil you are indeed missing one of life’s treasures and Thom and Nance, who are familiar with how to host this kind of an event really pulled out all the stops. We ate till we thought we would grow claws and climb into the swamp. Nance didn’t bother telling us that she had made chocolate covered strawberries and cookies. Who can pass up chocolate covered strawberries and cookies? I certainly can’t, nor could many of the others who attended. A big thanks to Thom and Nance.

Saturday, the day so many of us were looking forward to, was Poison Spider day and we all knew the challenges that lie ahead. We opted to encourage our perspective member to sit this one out since she is on 32’s, open on both ends and had only experienced Moab and Slickrock at the beginning of this trip, we knew this would be a busy day on the trail. She graciously accepted our evaluation and decided to hang around town until we returned. We all met in town and headed to the trail head for a 9:00 departure. I had invited an old Patrol 14 member (and his brother) to join us for the day’s activities. He encountered some mechanical difficulties and was being delayed. After seeing a large group of about 30 rigs show up at the Poison Spider trail head we decided to head out and let him catch up with us along the trail. Things went well as we progressed along the trail, we didn’t experience any difficulties but instead really were enjoying the challenges. About the time we hit the “Notch” the large group we saw at the trail head caught up to us and we decided to let them pass (they had nearly 30 jeeps in their convoy). We visited with them as they passed, they were headed for Golden Spike. They had a tag-a-long visitor from British Colombia who ask if they could join us since they had no intention of doing Golden Spike. Of course, being the congenial group that we are, we welcomed them to tag along. The day was uneventful other than the moments when Harold (leading that day) thought he lost the trail. In reality we really weren’t lost we just didn’t know exactly where we were. After we broke for lunch, we picked up the trail again and headed down. Gratefully we all hit the end of the trail without mechanical issues, other than the extreme winds (40 -50 mph winds). It was a great day to end our time in Moab.

Meet our Patrols!

Patrol 00 - The Misfits

Patrol Leader - Joe Buschard patrol00@mhjc.org

We are "family" and enjoy wheeling together. Trail difficulty doesn't matter to us as long as we are out having fun. We are young to older, beginner to experienced and drive moderate to heavily modified Jeeps. To wheel with us you must bring an open sense of humor and a lunch.

Patrol 1 - HoboJeeprs

Patrol Leader - Bryan Hamilton patrol1@mhjc.org

The spirit of a "Hobo" and the fun of Jeeping are the ideals of our name. As Hobos ride the rails, we instead drive the trails in that same traveling spirit. We like to run from the scenic Jeeping routes to the rugged adventure trips. The Hobos of Patrol 1 have mainly modified Jeeps, as lifts and lockers are recommended for most trips. The Hobos also enjoy all the MHJC has to offer, hold our Annual Hobo Run, and "Tread Lightly". We get together every month at various members houses around Denver.

Patrol 2 - Rat Patrol

Patrol Leader - Roy Grimm patrol2@mhjc.org

Our patrol is dedicated to having a blast doing the Jeep thing. We welcome all those that come along on our trail rides. We like to do all types of trails, from very difficult to moderate. We hold monthly patrol meetings on the 2nd Sunday of each month at patrol members' homes to plan next month's trail rides. We do, at a minimum, one trail a month. We make it a point that every vehicle that goes out, comes back. Our patrol is not just limited to Jeeps, if it's ready, let's GO.

Patrol 3 - Rock Jox

Patrol Leader - Chad Wilson patrol3@mhjc.org

Rock Jocks is Patrol 3 of the Mile High Jeep Club (MHJC). The Patrol is a fun loving adventurous group that enjoys easy to hard core trails. Members have to have a minimum of 33" tires, and lockers or limited slip. Expect to have fun, no bull, no politics. We enjoy the trails, help keep them open, and teach others how to do the same.

Patrol 4 - Lost Patrol

Patrol Leader - Jay Teague patrol4@mhjc.org

Our focus is to support the members of Patrol 4 to get out and enjoy the "JeepLife" safely. We run trails all year rating from 1 to 8, have Patrol meetings, support off-road agencies, All-4-Fun and Christmas Caravan up to having overnight camping excursions. A key commitment to our Patrol members is no one gets left behind! We have members of all ages who live all over the Denver Metro area; families welcome. Patrol and vehicle requirements are minimal and dictated by trail ratings.

Patrol 5 - The Low Rangers

Patrol Leader - Cory Moul patrol5@mhjc.org

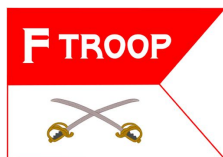

Members include singles, couples, and families. We live west of Denver and in the foothills. We are active in All-4-Fun and support all MHJC functions. We enjoy camping and moderate to serious Jeeping. Trips include some day trips, weekends, and week-long excursions. Our vehicles are equipped to handle most any kind of Jeeping.

Patrol 6 - F Troop

Patrol Leader - Mark Woodworth patrol6@mhjc.org

We are a rather busy patrol, with events often every other week summer & winter. Snow busting & opening trail in the spring are a passion! YOU are invited to come along, but please visit our website to see what to expect. We go prepared, far beyond the Boy Scout level. We understand we can require medical attention far from aid, that things break, that we get "temporarily slowed" but we never go without the necessary tools, food, water, parts and medical equipment as well as communication gear, to assure our safety and comfort and expect you to do the same.

Patrol 7 - Rainbow Chasers

Patrol Leader - Jerry Cronk patrol7@mhjc.org

We continually participate in and actively support the leadership of MHJC and the annual All-4-Fun. We are a fun group of couples who enjoy each other and a variety of social activities, 4-wheeling, and camping. Vehicles vary in make, model, and year, as do our members! Meetings are held the 2nd Wednesday of each month at different members' homes. Guests are always welcome at our meetings and outings.

Patrol 8 - Rock Pirates

Patrol Leader - Marissa Babineaux patrol8@mhjc.org

Founded in 1999, our patrol enjoys all 4x4s, short and long wheelbase. We welcome families and singles who are ready to help us achieve our simple goals: have fun, attend our functions and those planned by other patrols and clubs, and work hard to see that our sport of 4-wheeling, and the land we enjoy, is available for generations to come.

Patrol 9 - Trail Dawgs

Patrol Leader - Dianna Anderson patrol9@mhjc.org

We are or have been members of the US Uniformed Services and First Responder organizations. We drive lightly to heavily modified vehicles and enjoy easy to difficult runs. Most runs are day trips on the weekends with kids and dogs. We enjoy night runs, weekend trips, and camping. Safety is primary in everything we do. We practice courtesy toward other trail users, and we guide and assist each other so no one is left behind. We participate in trail maintenance, reforestation, and the Four Wheel Emergency Assistance Team.

Patrol 10 - Black Diamond 4 Wheelers

Patrol Leader - Patty Grosnick patrol10@mhjc.org

We like to do all kinds of trails, mostly moderate to scenic. We have highly modified to near stock rigs. We consist of family with kids, couples, and singles. We enjoy weekend and day trips and all club-related activities. We are BIG supporters of All-4-Fun. We are very informal and friendly - meet as often as possible - no pressure to participate - with no limit to patrol members.

In 1956, Mile-Hi Jeep Club was formed and grew to where it is today. Currently, the club has over 400 vehicle members that make up the 21 Patrols that are within MHJC. Each Patrol has its own personality and members are encouraged to join the Patrol that best suits them.

Patrol 11 - Cliffhangers

Patrol Leader - Todd Frick patrol11@mhjc.org

Our patrol is active in the pursuit of adventurous 4-wheeling fun. Our members live all over the Metro area and are of all ages. We participate in All-4 Fun and other MHJC activities. We meet for our patrol meetings, when needed, on the 2nd Sunday of each month and like to have a trip at least once a month. We enjoy moderate to sometimes serious 4-wheeling. We are firm believers in "Stay The Trail" and we practice safe and responsible 4-wheeling. We are accepting new members.

Patrol 12 - Fugowies

Patrol Leader - Dave Dickason patrol12@mhjc.org

Patrol 12 is dedicated to enjoying the scenic beauty of Colorado from its backroads. We have younger and older members with vehicles from moderate to major modifications. We run 25 trips each year including two trips to Moab and All-4-Fun. Most trips are moderate in difficulty and located in the front range of Colorado. A few are more challenging. In order to maintain a closely knit membership we have participation requirements and we limit ourselves to 15 active members at any one time. Visitors and new members are welcome to come along with us on our adventures.

Patrol 13 - Trail Runners

Patrol Leader - John Davenport patrol13@mhjc.org

We always welcome new members and visitors. We meet the second Saturday of every month, alternating at members' homes. We enjoy light Jeeping, support all Mile-Hi Jeep Club activities, have social activities, and actively help each other. Our members are mainly couples with grown children. Come visit with us any time.

Patrol 14 - Alpine 14ers

Patrol Leader - Bill David patrol14@mhjc.org

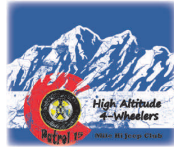

We are a large, active patrol that has members of all ages and vehicle ability. We enjoy a variety of moderate degrees, and run both local trails and overnight trips. Our priorities are 4-wheeling, trail maintenance, and helping each other.

Patrol 15 - High Altitude 4-Wheelers

Patrol Leader - Jeff Fish patrol15@mhjc.org

Patrol 15 members range from Lifetime Members to Associate Members, to first timers. Our wheeling experience ranges from moderate to experienced with the majority of rigs set up moderate to extreme. Members are spread out across Colorado with our 'adopted Coloradoans' that live out of state. We enjoy trails that range from scenic/ historic to challenging/ extreme. We welcome singles, families and old farts of all kinds, as long as you have a good sense of humor and like to have a good time.

Patrol 16 - Sasquatch Jeepers

Patrol Leader - Lana Hofman patrol16@mhjc.org

Established in 2014 Sasquatch Jeepers is comprised of various aged people who drive various makes and models of vehicles which have moderate to extreme modifications. We are environmentally friendly and safety minded at all times. We try to run at least 2 trails each month (moderate to difficult). Membership into this patrol requires at least 35" tires and rear and front recovery points.

Patrol 17 - The Colorado Pack

Patrol Leader - Aaron Brown patrol17@mhjc.org

Patrol 17 was formed in 2015, seeking to bring families, couples and singles who enjoy all aspects of the outdoors together. We live all over the metro area and Front Range and rotate between members homes each month to plan future events. We are environmentally friendly and safety minded at all times. We try to hold at least one event each month (scenic to difficult). We are active in various MHJC events and inter-patrol activities. There is a limit of 20 vehicles to the Patrol. All types of vehicles are allowed in our patrol but we do have entry and participation requirements.
